

For Immediate Release

New Teen Driver Safety and Education Program Continues at Nogales High School, La Puente, California

Friday, May 9th event at Nogales High School will give parents and invited guests extensive information about teen driving safety

(La Puente, CA – April 28th) Today's world of fast cars, heavy traffic, distractions, and the lack of driving experience makes this a particularly dangerous time for our teens. Each year over 6,000 of our teen drivers lose their lives on our local streets and highways. Six thousand teen deaths are totally unacceptable to our nation, and for the families and friends of each of those teens, that one death is a traumatic, life changing event.

The Our Teen Driver Foundation is making a difference. Our mission is to effect change in the way that families view their teen's driver education by giving them the tools necessary to effectively take part in their teen's driving experience, with the overall goal of bringing to our streets and highways successive generations of safer, better educated, and courteous drivers.

The Our Teen Driver Foundation is holding its second "An Hour with the Experts" Seminar in Los Angeles County on May 9th, 2008 at 6pm at Nogales High School. Local community leaders, parents and representatives from other school districts will attend the event. The focus is on informing parents about teen driving safety, their involvement, and the programs that are available to keep families safe.

"An Hour with the Experts" is quickly expanding throughout Southern California. The experts include representatives from the Department of Motor Vehicles, California Dept of Insurance, California Highway Patrol, and attending the Nogales High School event, representatives from the Campus Police Department. The information provided gives valuable insight into teen driving habits, their thought processes while driving, and the most up to date information on traffic laws, DMV requirements, and educational opportunities in the local community, as well as state wide.

The Our Teen Driver Foundation is proud to partner with the Ad Council of America and the National Driving Instructor's Institute, an association of accredited driving instructors whose goal is to implement an entire new standard of education and instruction in an industry dedicated to teaching new drivers. These valued partnerships and others will further our vision, to redefine the driver training process for future generations. Through technology, awareness and communication, we will begin the education process at the parent level so driving safety becomes a family value.

Located in Laguna Niguel, California, the Our Teen Driver Foundation is a non profit corporation whose programs have been well received throughout Southern California. With over 50 events to date in the Orange County area, expansion into other parts of the state has been anxiously awaited.
